Claims 7, 9, 11, 13, 19, 20 and 22-25 are presented for examination.

Applicant's amendment, response and information disclosure statement filed June 19, 2009 have been received and entered.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 24 and 25 are allowable.

Claim Objections

Claims 9, 22 and 23 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim 7.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 7, 11, and 19 are again rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

This is a written description rejection.

A lack of adequate written description issue arises if the knowledge and level of skill in the art would not permit one skilled in the art to immediately envisage the product claimed from the disclosed process. See, e.g., Fujikawa v. Wattanasin, 93 F.3d 1559, 1571, 39 USPQ2d 1895, 1905 (Fed. Cir. 1996) (a "laundry list" disclosure of every possible moiety does not constitute a written description of every species in a genus because it would not "reasonably lead" those skilled in the art to any particular species); In re Ruschig, 379 F.2d 990, 995, 154 USPQ 118, 123 (CCPA 1967).

An applicant may also show that an invention is complete by disclosure of sufficiently detailed, relevant identifying characteristics which provide evidence that applicant was in possession of the claimed invention, i.e., complete or partial structure, other physical and/or chemical properties, functional characteristics when coupled with a known or disclosed correlation between function and structure, or some combination of such characteristics.

In particular, the specification as original filed fails to provide sufficient written bases of any of the agents demonstrating wherein possession of use of the broad terms: a basic physiologically active substance, one or more enteric polymer having acidic residues in the molecule thereof, and one or more electrolytes selected from the group consisting of an alkali earth metal salt or an alkaline earth metal salt. The mere fact that Applicant may have discovered one type of basic physiologically active substance formulated into a multilayered tablet with the other components is not sufficient to claim the entire genus.

The written description requirement for a claimed genus may be satisfied through sufficient description of a representative number of species by actual reduction to practice, reduction to drawings, or by disclosure of relevant, identifying characteristics, i.e., structure or other physical and/or chemical properties, by functional characteristics coupled with a known or disclosed correlation between function and structure, or by a combination of such identifying characteristics, sufficient to show the applicant was in possession of the claimed genus. See Eli Lilly, 119 F.3d at 1568, 43 USPQ2d at 1406.

A "representative number of species" means that the species which are adequately described are representative of the entire genus. Thus, when there is substantial variation within the genus, one must describe a sufficient variety of species to reflect the variation within the genus. The disclosure of only one species encompassed within a genus adequately describes a claim directed to that genus only if the disclosure "indicates that the patentee has invented species sufficient to constitute the gen[us]."

Claims 7, 11 and 19 are again not allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 7 is again rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fukui et al. (4,772,475), of record, for reason of record as set forth in the previous Office action dated March 19, 2009 at pages 4-5 as applied to claim 1 (should be claim 7).

Applicant's remarks regarding the prior art does not teach every component of the instant basic medicine-containing preparation are not persuasive since the composition step forth in the prior art broadly teaches any basic physiologically active substance such as dl-tamsulosin, broadly teaches any one or more enteric polymers having acidic residues in the molecule thereof such as hydroxypropylmethyl cellulose phthalate and hydroxypropylmethyl cellulose acetate succinate, and broadly teaches alkali metal salt and an alkaline earth metal salt such as magnesium stearate and calcium stearate. Note that a composition comprising the same agents (components) as the claimed composition will inherently possess the qualities recited therein.

Claim 7 would be allowable by the incorporation of the objected claims 9, 22 and 23 into claim 7.

The rejection made under 35 USC 102(b) is adhered to.

Claim 7 is not allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 7, 11, 13, 19 and 20 are again rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by WO 03/039530 A1, AO of PTO-1449, hereby known as Platteeuw et al., of record, for reason for record as set forth in the previous Office action dated March 19, 2009 at pages 5-6 as applied to claims 7-21.

Applicants' remarks regarding the prior art's "one or more electrolyte selected from the group consisting of an alkali metal salt or an alkaline earth metal salt" is not the "highly dissolved in an aqueous solvent" are not persuasive since the claims do not recite the "critical limitation", especially claim 7. Claim 7 stills broadly reads on any alkali metal salt and an alkaline earth metal salt wherein calcium phosphate is such an electrolyte.

The rejection made under 35 USC 102(a) is adhered to.

Claim 7, 11, 13, 19 and 20 are not allowed.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
